How to cook

Last wednesday, I learned how to cook some of the korean food.

So , I did something called "Naengmyeon". It's quite easy but it was my first time to try this so it came quite normal. I like my mom's one hundred times more.

Well, what went badly was the noodles because it was really sticky and that is the worst thing that can happen to you while you are making naengmyeon.

But the good thing was that the sauce was really good. It was kind of chilly and a really good taste, but if the sauce is good but the noodles are sticky, after all the naengmyeon becomes normal.

I was really impressed because I thought I would never cook in my life.

It was quite difficult after all, I think it is because it was my first time to cook so next time, I will try and make my noodles not so sticky.
