

In the Dark of Night

In the dark of night,
The life ebbed out of her like a river,
Her skin as pale as a lily,
I committed this murder.
Her soul left with the last of my senses,
Unsex me right this moment,
Thus can I escape from the consequences.
All women are mild and timorous,
Her soul like an innocent angel,
She won't come back to plague me at night,
Her eyes used to be so bright,
Unsex me one last time.

Sinful Love

I prayed upon Heaven's stars,
And for nights I cried,
I wished to be embraced by tender arms,
And longed for someone by my side.

Spirits blessed be with a soul,
Who's loving nature shook me to the core,
A love so passionate I felt so dull,
My thoughts so dense, they made me sore.

But as Hell looked up and filled me with remorse,
My dearest lover, this intangible force,
Lead to you bloody murder and ended your life's course
